

May 24, 2013

This letter is in reference to your Federal Skilled Worker (FSW) application for immigration to Canada.

The Jobs, Growth and Long-term Prosperity Act became law on June 29, 2012. Under this legislation, Federal Skilled Worker (FSW) applications made before February 27, 2008, were terminated by operation of law if a selection decision had not been made by an immigration officer before March 29, 2012.

You have been affected by this provision and your application is one which has been terminated by law. The immigration processing fee(s) paid for your permanent residence application and, if applicable, any Right of Permanent Residence Fee (RPRF), formerly called the Right of Landing Fee (ROLF), paid for your permanent residence application, must be returned to you by law.

Fees will be returned in the form of a cheque from the Receiver General of Canada made payable to you as the principal applicant, unless you request that fees be returned to someone other than yourself.

The cheque will be issued in the appropriate currency known to be accepted in the country where it will be sent. The final amount will be calculated based on the exchange rate on the date of the payment.

In order for these fees to be returned to you as quickly as possible, you must complete the "Return of Processing Fee, Right of Permanent Residence Fee or Right of Landing Fee" form at the back of this letter and return it to Citizenship and Immigration Canada (CIC) within 60 days of the date on this letter.

Completed "Return of Processing Fee, Right of Permanent Residence Fee or Right of Landing Fee" form, with all required information, can be submitted either by:

- 1) E-MAIL (CIC preferred method) to: FSWFeeReturn@cic.gc.ca; or
